

NEMA Lites through 2016

Jesse State captured the first “official” NEMA Lites race at the Waterford Speedbowl on June 11, 2008. Formed with economy in mind and designed to provide an avenue into Midget racing for emerging competitors. It has proven to be a major success. Current NEMA standouts Todd Bertrand, Seth Carlson, Avery Stoehr, Bethany Stoehr, Dan Cugini – all NEMA feature winners – cut their teeth in the Lites competition.

While there was a Hoosier Tire Challenge Series winner in 2012 (Ian Cumens), Carl Medeiros Jr. was the Lites’ first ‘count all the races’ champion in 2013
